The above noted allocation represents the Corporation's current intentions with respect to its use of available funds based on current knowledge, planning and expectations of management of the Corporation. Although the Corporation intends to expend the available funds as set forth above, there may be circumstances where, for sound business reasons, a reallocation of funds may be deemed prudent or necessary and may vary materially from that set forth above, as the amounts actually allocated and spent will depend on a number of factors, including the Corporation's ability to execute on its business plan and financing objectives.

The Corporation has a negative cash flow from operating activities and reported a net loss of $1,798,536 for the six-month period ended June 30, 2026. The Corporation anticipates that negative operating cash flows will continue as long as it remains in the exploration stage, and to the extent that the Corporation has negative cash flows in the future periods, the available funds may be used to fund such negative cash flow in future periods.

The Corporation's most recent annual and interim financial statements included a going concern note. Although the Offering will provide funding for further exploration of the Corporation's properties, general and administrative costs and working capital requirements for at least the 12 months following the Closing Date, the Corporation will remain dependent on additional financing to fund its ongoing operations and exploration activities. Accordingly, the Offering is not expected to resolve the uncertainties underlying the going concern note, and the Corporation anticipates that a going concern note will also be included in the next annual financial statements of the Corporation.

How have we used the other funds we have raised in the past 12 months?
